

PATTY MORRISON SCHIMBERG

Interior Designer

BACKGROUND

Patty Morrison Schimberg was trained at Parson's School of Design, Musee des Arts Decoratifs and New York University's Art Appraisal Program. She credits her early work in New York City as the real foundation for her career as an interior designer. In 1996, Patty launched her interior design business in Sarasota and 16 successful years later, merged Morrison Design with the Schimberg Group. Patty's diverse experience allows her to provide an expert eye, yet consistently original designs for commercial, hospitality, retail and residential interior design projects.
